computer arts foundation

introduces the computer as a medium for the creation of works of art. Students work through a series of problems that investigate different approaches to the medium, providing a solid foundation in computer-based creation.

start learning to use adobe cc 2014 & processing to create art 161

redesigned for fall, 2015

contact paul lindale for more information: lindale@gcc.mass.edu