Human Services Program

The course examines the nature of substance use and addiction in modern society. Topics include: commonly used substances and their effects, physical symptoms and behavioral signs of substance use disorders, the neurobiology of addiction, and the psychological, environmental and social influences.

Monday/Wednesday 2:00-3:15
E Building 125

Amy Ford forda1@gcc.mass.edu