Marie Breheny

Marie Breheny joined Greenfield Community College in a newly created position as Director of Assessment. Breheny’s role is to lead and help the College’s staff assess their effectiveness and continually improve how they serve and support students. Breheny comes to GCC after 10 years as Director of Assessment and Institutional Research at Landmark College in Putney, VT. Prior to her work at Landmark, Breheny worked in the Office of Institutional Research at Florida Institute of Technology. Breheny came to GCC to use her skills and experience in a public school of higher education. She said, “I appreciate the College’s mission of being open to all who seek to learn and GCC’s role as an integral part of the fabric of the local community.” Breheny holds a Ph.D. in Science Education from Florida Institute of Technology, a Master of Science in Teaching from Iona College, and a B.S. in Biology from Fordham University.

Jennifer Duzinski

Jennifer Duzinski joined Greenfield Community College as the College’s Registrar. Before coming to GCC, Duzinski served as Registrar for the School for International Training, a program of World Learning in Brattleboro for 15 years. Prior to her work at the School for International Training Duzinski was the Assistant Library Director at Green Mountain College and Librarian for the United States Olympic Committee. Duzinski came to GCC looking for new challenges and to experience working in public higher education. She said, “I immediately liked the atmosphere at GCC. It’s an amazingly student-centered school. Everyone I’ve had the honor of meeting really works to help students succeed.” Duzinski holds a B.A. in English from Johnson State College, an M.L.S. in Library Science from Southern Connecticut State University and a M.S. in Management of Information Technology from Madison College.

Terence Lynn

Terence Lynn joined Greenfield Community College as the Dean of Professional Studies, overseeing the Division of Professional Studies’ career-oriented academic programs. Lynn comes to GCC after serving as Assistant Dean and Director of Professional Studies and Assistant Professor of Behavioral Sciences at Endicott College in Beverly, MA. Lynn was immediately impressed by the level of engagement between faculty, staff, and students at GCC. He said, “There is a feeling of excitement on campus. Everyone wants to be here and staff and faculty are eager to help students achieve. I know firsthand how education can change your life for the better and I’m glad to be able to help GCC students open up to their future.” Lynn holds a B.A. degree in Liberal Arts from Thomas Edison State College, an M.Ed. in Psychology from Cambridge College, and a C.A.G.S. in Counseling and Human Relations from Suffolk University. He is a Ph.D. candidate (A.B.D.) in Education at Lesley University and is completing a C.A.G.S. in Educational Leadership at Suffolk University. Lynn holds independent clinical licenses in mental health counseling and is a graduate of the 10th New Hampshire State Police Academy and a graduate of the full-time Massachusetts Police Academy class 65-90.
